Costa Rica: security nightmare for Reagan

President Reagan will have fully 1,600 security agents with him when he visits Costa Rica early next December, according to a wire service report originating in San José. One hundred agents are already deployed to the country, carrying out a "logistical analysis" of the one-day visit.

EIR founder Lyndon LaRouche has warned Reagan not to stop in Costa Rica because of the security conditions in the country. Costa Rica, the "Switzerland of Central America," is the playground of operatives of Permindex, the international assassination organization implicated in the John Kennedy assassination. A Zionist-Mafia drug connection, involving the Meyer Lansky networks, among others, was recently upgraded. The country is a center of arms traffic and terrorist safehousing for all sides in the civil wars which are decimating Central America.

West German court shields Lucifer-worshippers

The 24th Civic Court of Hamburg, West Germany has issued a temporary injunction against distribution of "Stop the Green Menace," the European Labor Party (EAP) pamphlet which has almost sold out its second printing. The injunction was issued on behalf of the "Anthroposophical Society," which, as the pamphlet documents, largely controls Germany's "greenie" environmentalist movement. The Anthroposophs have charged the EAP with defamation for describing them as "Lucifer-worshippers." Pending trial, the court threatened a 500,000 deutschemark fine (more than $200,000) should the EAP continue distributing "Green Menace" despite the injunction.

The Anthroposophs were founded by Rudolf Steiner. He was extremely close to the British Cliveden Set's special cult, the Isis-Urania Temple of the Order of the Golden Dawn under Bertrand Russell's friend, Aleister Crowley. Together, the Golden Dawn and the Anthroposophs founded a Nordic-Aryan race-cult in Bavaria called the Thule Society. Almost every founding member of the Nazi Party, including Hitler, were Thule Society members. Some, like Gregor Strasser, creator of the SA Stormtroopers, were immediate followers of Rudolf Steiner.

By embracing the "philosopher" Friedrich Nietzsche, Steiner became both a fascist and a "Lucifer-worshipper," for Nietzsche rejected the Judeo-Christian concept of a universal good, the principle of the Logos or Holy Spirit. Steiner joined Annie Besant's "Theosophical Society" of Manichean devil-worshippers based in London in 1902. He founded a Theosophical magazine called Lucifer-Gnosis (Lucifer Knowledge). In 1913, he left the Theosophists to found the Anthroposophists because he wished to present his fascist-paganism as "true Christianity." Lucifer-worshipping Nazism would better be spread by using at least the terminology of the Christians. That, the anthroposophs did, as a matter of documented historical fact. That, the facts documented in the European Labor Party's "Stop the Green Menace" pamphlet shows, they continue to do today, presently under the protection of the German courts.

Kirkland getting new French hobby horse

American and French trade-union sources have confirmed that Lane Kirkland is planning to switch AFL-CIO recognition in France from the old social-democratic union, Force Ouvrière, to the social fascists of the CFDT union, headed by Edmond Maire. Kirkland spent several days in Paris in mid-November to oversee the project.

The CFDT represents the largest number of actual fascists in France as an organized force. Under the leadership of Edmond Maire and Jacques Chereque (the latter will be meeting with Kirkland in Paris) the CFDT has called for dismantling the French nuclear energy program and has pioneered the "autogestion" (workers' self-management of austerity) project for France. The CFDT calls for an abandonment of the principle of progress by the labor force, and its substitution with solidarism in the form of "equality of sacrifice."

The CFDT maintains particularly close relations with Finance Minister Jacques Delors, who is the architect of France's submission to the International Monetary Fund.

The AFL-CIO grouping, headed by Irving Brown and Jay Lovestone, is behind an effort to topple the present Socialist-Communist coalition in the government to replace it with a "socialist-centrist" grouping, in which Delors would be able to consolidate his controls over economic and financial matters.

British attack on energy-beam proposal

The British continue their offensive against moves in the United States to adopt a defense policy based on the development of energy-beam weapons, with the publication in the Nov. 15 Guardian of an article attacking President Reagan's arms policy.

The article states that included in the arms build-up Reagan is pushing is the development of X-ray technology. These are described as "utopian" programs that are only being included as a way of getting an increase in the military budget. Such weapons could not be used until into the 21st century, the Guardian asserts, and calls for control of technological progress in the military field to ensure that they don't ever get deployed. The Guardian also joins the chorus of British outlets attempting to discredit Dr. Teller by calling him dishonest.

Kissinger boys make further gains at DOS

According to State Department sources, Secretary of State George Shultz is considering three replacements for former Director of the Office of Policy Planning Paul Wolfowitz. After serving as special assistant to Arms Control and Disarmament Agency Director Fred Iklé in 1974-76, Wolfowitz had maintained ties to former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. He was recently appointed Assistant Secretary of State for East Asian Affairs.

The three replacements under consideration include longtime Kissinger crony Helmut Sonnenfeldt, who served as Kissinger's special assistant from 1969-72 at the National Security Council and later as Kissinger's State Department counselor. The controversial Sonnenfeldt, who had been under State Department security surveillance in 1959-67 for allegedly leaking classified information to Israeli and other intelligence agencies, was also the first man Kissinger advised George Shultz to hire. Also under consideration for the Policy Planning post is the former Kissinger Soviet expert at the National Security Council and State Department William Hyland. Hyland, who has also been brought into Shultz's immediate entourage by Kissinger, is identified in Kissinger's latest book as one of his two closest friends (the other being Winston Lord, the chairman of the New York Council on Foreign Relations). The last name reported to be under consideration is Peter Rodman, who reportedly "ghost-wrote" Kissinger's autobiography.

Briefly

Policy Planning maintains access to all "classified" information and has been the center of support for Tel Aviv's policies over the years within the U.S. government.

AID visit to "straighten the Egyptians out"?

The U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) is disgruntled by the bad public relations the official Egyptian press has begun to give them. EIR has learned that AID Director M. Peter McPherson is "tentatively" scheduled to visit Cairo late in November in response to a series of excoriating articles which appeared in Egypt's semi-official Al Ahram al Iktasaki newspaper in early October, accusing his AID office of plotting against Egypt's security. According to a risk analyst who specializes in Egypt for a leading Wall Street commercial bank, "maybe McPherson will go there to straighten the Egyptians out."

Egypt has the largest AID bureaucracy in the developing nations. The Alexandrian Mafia, sheltering the remnants of former King Farouk's family and friends, is heavily involved in its administration. For his part McPherson was a major architect of the genocide-advocating Global 2000 Report.

Egyptian President Mubarak, according to Cairo sources, is to arrive in Washington some time in January to discuss the future of Egypt's economic relations with the United States. It is expected that he will raise the same theme he did in his last visit in February 1982: the need to get the Malthusian AID bureaucracy out of the way so that the billions of dollars in U.S. aid to Egypt can be spent effectively, not on the murderous "basic human needs" approach AID dictates. AID has been the leading force in attempting to dismantle Egypt's state sector in favor of a Hong Kong-style economy. Aside from a vigorous population-control program AID has been an open advocate of busting Egypt's trade unions in order to promote sweatshop labor.

According to an Egyptian journalist, the free-enterprise program AID has been pushing is exactly the same policy the old British-allied King Farouk regime espoused. EIR was recently told by a State Department official in charge of "environmental affairs" for Egypt that Egypt was "better off under Farouk" than the nationalist regime of Nasser, because Nasser-built up expectations in the Egyptian people."

India to boost nuclear power

India will increase installed nuclear power capacity from the present 860 MW to 10,000 MW by the end of the century, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi stated Nov. 6. Five nuclear stations, consisting of four units each, will be built across the country, she said.

Mrs. Gandhi outlined the country's nuclear development plan to the parliamentary consultative committee attached to the Departments of Atomic Energy, Space, Science and Technology, Electronics, Ocean Development and Environment. Initially the stations will consist of 235 MW units, but these will be switched to 500 MW units, for which design work is now under way.

For the 21st century, a prototype 500 MW fast breeder reactor based on thorium fuel is now being developed, the Prime Minister explained. India has domestic thorium reserves that are among the largest in the world.

The Indian nuclear research establishment is also one of the world's best.

● THE ARGENTINE central bank announced Nov. 18 that it will pay off $5.5 billion in private-sector debts—four to six years from now.

● JOURNALISTS are descending on Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, for "the expected" outbreak of war with Nicaragua, according to wire service reports appearing in Ibero-American newspapers on Nov. 16.

● TERMITES, according to Science magazine Nov. 6, "do more than dine on the succulent wood of innumerable homes. They may also contribute as much as half of the atmospheric methane produced each year." That's 165 million tons, along with 55 billion tons of carbon dioxide. This poses a cruel dilemma for environmentalists, since these two gases are the major influences on the "greenhouse effect" that is held to be smothering the planet. Now the greenies have to choose between fresh air and World Wildlife Fund leader Prince Philip's beloved "creepy-crawlies."

● PRINCE LOUIS Ferdinand of Prussia declared, on the occasion of his 75th birthday celebration Nov. 9, that although because of his advanced age he was unlikely to regain his throne and restore monarchy to Germany, "my grandson might." The Prince, whose bash received wide publicity, began stumping in September, when he declared that the depth of the world crisis forced him to give up his previous political neutrality.

● THE CLUB OF LIFE held its first Asian working meeting in New Delhi on Nov. 16. The event was hosted by Indian Club of Life founders R. K. Mishra, Ganesh Shukla, and Col. Rama Rao. It was also addressed by EIR Contributing Editor Uwe Parpart, who has been on tour in India.
