From the Editors

Will the American population tolerate a President who supports Nazis, such as those who have just taken over in Ukraine? If so, we are headed directly toward a thermonuclear confrontation with Russia, which spells a war of extinction for all mankind. If not, the American people will force Congress to move immediately for impeachment of British stooge Obama, enact Glass-Steagall, and set us on the path for a Hamiltonian recovery.

Lyndon LaRouche addresses this strategic reality with two in-depth papers in this issue (Feature)—both of which take up the crucial conceptions provided by Alexander Hamilton that must be revived today, once Obama is out of office. “A New President for the U.S.A.” presents Hamilton’s unique understanding of the principles of a physical science of economy, while “The Principle of Natural Economy—II” further elaborates, with reference to the legacy of Jeanne d’Arc and the great Italian Renaissance which formed the foundation for those principles. Together, these papers are indispensable for thinking about bringing about a real recovery.

On the war crisis per se, we bring you a chilling first-hand picture, from Dr. Natalia Vitrenko of Ukraine, of the Nazi resurgence which Obama, Nuland, and the EU are bringing into being (International). Dr. Vitrenko is now on tour in Western Europe, and we will have much more to report next week. We also provide insight into the future plans which the British empire has for a U.S. alliance with Saudi Arabia, expected to be consummated when Obama visits in March.

In National, we feature an exclusive interview by LaRouchePAC with international law professor Francis Boyle, who makes it clear that just one brave Congressman is needed to start impeachment proceedings against Obama. Otherwise, we reprise the recent conference hosted by LaRouche candidate for the Democratic Party nomination for Senate in Texas Kesha Rogers, on the anniversary of the Chelyabinsk asteroid explosion.

Rogers’ campaign, by the way, is currently major international news, in the wake of a local poll showing her leading her rivals—thanks to her longstanding, courageous campaign for Obama’s impeachment. The primary election is March 4.

Lastly, see Economics for what’s behind the “fracking” insanity—and for the latest advances on Glass-Steagall.
