

They Have Murder on Their Minds

The horrific crash of an airplane carrying the Polish President and a large part of his government, on April 10, underscores the warning that Lyndon LaRouche and this magazine have been putting out over the last weeks: The British, in a desperately bankrupt condition, and hysterical about holding on to global power, are going for broke, including the potential assassination of President Barack Obama.

“This event is not an isolated event,” LaRouche said. “When a Polish pilot, a military pilot, entrusted with the Presidential government, overrides an order, a warning given on Russian territory, for a Russian landing, on weather conditions, and proceeds, and gets everybody killed, you have to think.”

“This is part of the . . . environment of the death threat, to President Obama. You’re in a situation, where the nearest comparison, to the present situation, internationally, is the assassination of President Kennedy. . . . When you’re going to assassinate the President of the United States, you run a number of operations, which create an atmosphere of instability, a dynamic, which enables you to at least have a fighting chance of covering up who did what to whom.

“We had the same thing with 9/11, at the beginning of 2001. I warned that we had to expect an attack, a terrorist attack on the United States. We continued through that; that warning stood. All the evidence was there. We had a big flurry of diversionary business. . . .

“This is a warning of a threat to the President of the United States. You have a President who is absolutely worse than useless. He has just put through this health-care plan, which is what he was assigned to do. He has completed his mission, as President! And the British who employed him for this mission, are about to get rid of him, in order to create a situation for imposing an actual dictatorship in the United States, by disposing of a President, who has already given up all of his political usefulness! In which key members of his government, including Rahm Emanuel and others, are trying to quit the government, because it’s a disaster area. . . .

“You’re in that kind of period. The entire financial system of the world is collapsing, disintegrating. It’s hopeless. The present world situation is absolutely hopeless. Now, they couldn’t solve it, but we have to solve it. . . .”

In the wake of the Polish tragedy, the environment portending other violence has only increased. Most notable is the upsurge of threats, both legal and potentially physical, against Pope Benedict XVI. The hand of the British oligarchy, itself notorious for pederasty, behind this campaign against the Catholic Church is out in the open. As LaRouche has identified, the Monarchy, with its commitment to world depopulation, is fanatically committed to destroying one of the chief obstacles to its aims, the Roman Catholic Church.

The other major obstacle to the British, of course, is the Constitutional tradition of the United States, now rendered virtually impotent by the British puppet Obama in the White House, but still threatening to Britain’s ultimate objective of eliminating the world’s premier republican nation-state. To accomplish this, the British are considering the assassination of the now largely useless President Obama, as a means of throwing the United States into chaos, and establishing a dictatorship.

Can the British be stopped? That, dear reader, has everything to do with the way you think.
