From the Managing Editor

This week, we lead with a must-read discussion, on the widely viewed Internet radio program, The Alex Jones Show, with Lyndon LaRouche, on the eve of his 90th birthday (Strategy). LaRouche, as always, doesn't pull any punches, in confronting his audience—and by extension, you, our readers—with the reality that we are perhaps only days or weeks from the outbreak of thermonuclear world war—unless we succeed in permanently removing London's own puppet Barack Obama's finger from the nuclear trigger. And while there are significant war-avoidance measures being taken by the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and their counterparts in the two other nuclear superpowers, China and Russia, those efforts will come to naught, unless the American people take the appropriate action—and fast! The means to do so, are outlined immediately following, in “The Case To Impeach Barack Obama Now,” which presents seven counts of indictment against the Narcissist-in-Chief, any one of which is solid grounds for impeachment.

“Israel Trigger Set for World War III” (International) amplifies LaRouche warnings, by zeroing in on the lunatic threats by Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu to strike Iran, a strike which could be the spark that lights the fuse for world war. Helga Zepp-LaRouche covers the European crisis, in a message to the citizens of Germany, “No to Nuclear War and Eurozone Hyperinflation!” Nobel Peace Prize laureate Archbishop Tutu refuses to appear with Britain's war criminal Tony Blair, declaring his lies that led to the Iraq War “morally indefensible”; and Mohammad Mahfoud, an independent Syrian activist, counters the black propaganda flooding the news media about the war in that nation.

Our Feature presents a first-hand report from the Stockholm World Water Week, where two world views—that of the greenie, malthusian West, and the desperate, water- and food-starved nations of Africa and Asia—were in stark contrast.

In the midst of these world-shaking events, we take time to remember Gail Billington, a longtime, leading member of the LaRouche political movement, whose effect on all those whose lives she touched, from Prime Ministers to ordinary people, moved them to want to join her lifelong battle for economic and political justice.
